Baptism Request

Baptism is recognized as a sign of God's grace in this word. At the same time, it is recognized as the rite, which marks the formal entry of the participant into the Christian family of faith.

Baptism is also a time of covenant making. Vows are made by the person being baptized (or their sponsor) and by the family of faith. Commitments are made to each other. It is important that both parties understand and are responsible for the commitments they make.
